TAFT OUTLINES HUGE TASK FOR NEXT CONGRESS

Final Speech of Trip Brings Out Summary of Steps He Will Recommend.

WEST FIRST CONCERN

President's First Annual Message Will Urge Expediting of Reclamation Work.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 10.—"In my 60 days of travel there has been a moment or two of deliberation, and in that time I have been studying what it is the duty of an executive to recommend to an incoming Congress in respect to future legislation, and when I think of the number of things Congress ought to do, I am staggered lest it may not find time to do them."

In the final speech of his 13,000-mile trip before an immense audience this afternoon, President Taft thus prefaced a preliminary statement of some of the recommendations his first annual message to Congress would contain. He said:

In the first place, there is the conservation of our resources and the reclamation of arid lands. We have reached a time now where a great many people in the west are counting on an immediate supply of water for the land upon which they have settled, which is not forthcoming because the money applied to the reclamation fund does not come in as quickly as expected, or at least quickly enough to meet the exigency of the occasion, and I am strongly in favor of anticipating that fund, which is a fund raised solely by the sale of public lands, by the issuing of bonds, the payment of which shall be charged to the same source of revenue.

He added that the demand for the products of the soil is greater than the supply, because of the growing population, and we must enlarge our acreage and the plain way seemed by the reclamation of arid and swamp lands. He continued:

Must Save Resources.

Then we have a great deal of valuable coal land, owned by the government. We have a great many water power sites, the water power of which will furnish an immense amount of power for use by electrical purposes. Then there are millions of acres of phosphate to be used in the fertilization of the soil. Under existing laws those lands are likely to be parted with merely under a homestead settlement. They are of such peculiar value that it seems wiser that the government reserve some control over the water power sites and the coal lands and the phosphates, so that they may not come into the hands of one controlling corporation, but may be retained by the government with the power to restrict the prices on which the coal, or at least at which the power is sold to prevent the absorption into one command of all the power on the continent.

Then we have the antitrust law on our hands for enforcement and the arrangement of the departments of the government in such a way as to make it more effective if possible.

Then there is the interstate commerce law, which certainly needs amendment in order to give the interstate commerce tribunal more power to prevent the delays now incident to appeals to the courts. In my judgment, the best way is to create a special court and have a court that is charged with the knowledge and practice in regard to railroads so that the matter can be promptly disposed of.

Then I am strongly in favor of a postal savings bank. I know that in that proposition I come up against a great many conservative bankers, and also of a great many who doubt the wisdom of extending paternalism in the government. Where it happens that the government is so situated that it can do a thing better and more economically than individuals can do it and can supply a want for a means of thrift, I am in favor of it doing so.

The monetary reform is under consideration by a committee. I am hopeful that the commission may present the conditions that exist here and the conditions as they exist in Europe, and in this way point out to us some steps that may be taken to reform what is certainly today nothing but a patchwork.

Judicial Reform

Then there is another subject that is near to my heart. We must improve our legal procedure so as to make it in criminal and in civil cases more simple, more rapid and less expensive, and I mean to recommend to Congress the appointment of a commission to take up that subject with respect to the federal procedure, and then if by federal procedure we achieve a result that commends itself, it will form a model for the states.

Mr. Taft said he believed the time had come for the organization of a federal health bureau.

"That is a pretty long list of things to do, but if we set our shoulders together we can do a lot in one session, or two sessions of Congress," continued the President.

Referring to his avowed policy of showing his consideration for the south by appointing to federal offices in the south men whose appointment would commend themselves to the communities in which they live, Mr. Taft said he had been carrying out that policy as far as he had been able and would continue to do so.

INNER MAN WINS.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 10.—Three prisoners abandoned the starvation strike today and decided to go to work on the rock pile as sentenced, their action entitling them to square meals instead of the bread and water diet.

FAURE'S NAME MAY BE DRAGGED IN MIRE

ANTI-DREYFUSARDS DEMAND AN AIRING.

Mme. Steinheil's Threats to Exhibit Skeleton Bring Challenge From Judge.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—The testimony today in the trial of Mme. Steinheil, charged with the murder of her husband and her stepmother, was distinctly favorable to the defendant.

The state's circumstantial case against Mme. Steinheil seems to be breaking down, and it is already rumored that the trial may be abandoned and a new investigation ordered. Anti-Dreyfus papers have again begun to revamp their previous insinuations that the crime involved a political plot for the destruction of evidence regarding the death of ex-President Felix Faure, which anti-Dreyfusards never have ceased to claim was due to foul play, because, as they alleged, M. Faure opposed the revision of the Dreyfus case.

Louis Anethene Gregori, who shot Major Dreyfus at the canonization of Zola in the pantheon in 1908, has written an open letter to M. De Valles, presiding judge, demanding that he be heard on the subject of the death of the former president, and anti-Dreyfusards seek to give color to their insinuations by emphasizing the veiled threats which Mme. Steinheil repeatedly has made in open court to reveal her relations with prominent men in every walk of life should she be driven to bay.

Judge De Valles, however, evidently assumes that former intrigues have no bearing on the case and twice has practically defied her to draw in whatever scandal and names she pleased. "You may name whom you will," he has said to her.

MRS. U. S. GRANT DIES AT SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 10.—Mrs. U. S. Grant, wife of a son of the late President Grant, died today of apoplexy. She had been an invalid for years. Mrs. Grant was 53 years old. She is survived by her husband and five children, Mrs. U. S. Macey, wife of Lieutenant Macey, U. S. N.; Chaffee Grant, U. S. Grant IV., Julia Dent Grant and Fannie Grant. She was a daughter of former Senator Chaffee of Colorado.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION IN HUSTED WRECK CASE

State Railroad Commission Places Blame on Trainmen Whom Jury Held Innocent.

The report of the state railroad commission, which was made public in Denver yesterday, exonerates the Denver & Rio Grande railroad from blame in the Husted collision August 14, and places the responsibility on the trainmen of northbound train No. 8.

A peculiar feature of the case is that after a coroner's jury in this city also held the five surviving trainmen responsible for the wreck, Engineer O. H. Lessig, the first to be tried for manslaughter, was acquitted by a jury in the district court, resulting in the dismissal of the other four cases by the assistant district attorney.

Twelve people were killed, nine instantly, and 62 were injured in the Husted wreck.

TAKE MORSE CASE TO SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—A petition for a writ of certiorari to have the supreme court of the United States review the judgment of the circuit court of appeals in the case of Charles W. Morse, the ice king, convicted of misapplication of the funds of the National Bank of North America, was filed today by Martin W. Littleton, counsel for Mr. Morse.

CANADIAN MOVEMENT A "NATIONAL PLAGUE"

U. S. Steel Corporation Attacked in Lively Session of Labor Convention.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 10.—"This national plague," was the term applied today by Jerome Jones of Atlanta, Ga., to the "Canada for Canadians" movement, known as the Canadian Federation of Labor, in his report to the convention of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Jones was the fraternal delegate of the federation to the Canadian trades congress at Quebec last September.

"This national movement of Canada for Canadians," said Mr. Jones, "is as odious to the Canadian trades congress as the nonunion or open shop policy is to the men and women of labor in the states."

The day's proceedings were enlivened by an address on woman suffrage by Mrs. Frances Squire Potter, a former professor in the University of Minnesota.

Several resolutions were received but not read, one of them introduced by President P. J. McArdle of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, declaring conditions in the United States Steel corporation to be the worst with which organized labor has to contend and recommending that means be devised for making more effective the strikes of the affiliated organizations now pending.

UNCLE SAM DECLARES WAR AGAINST CUPID

Fictitious Names Cannot Be Used in Getting Mail—Close Watch Being Kept.

Uncle Sam has put on the gloves against Cupid and young girls giving fictitious names in order to conceal their identity are denied mail at the general delivery windows of the Colorado Springs postoffice. This is in conformity with a mandate issued some time ago by the postoffice department at Washington. The object of the order is to prevent young girls from receiving mail from men to whom their parents object, and to stop clandestine dates and meetings.

"We have been very strict in trying to prevent anyone from getting mail at our office under a fictitious name," said Postmaster Alex J. Strachan last night. "The rule has been in effect for some time, and the clerks at the general delivery office windows keep a close watch on persons receiving mail there to see that no one is getting mail under more than one name."

In the past it has been the habit of young people to come to the general delivery window and secure mail under an assumed name. In some cases they used two different names that is, a person giving one name would quietly slip to another window and inquire for letters under another name.

CHILD CHIEF WITNESS IN MURDER HEARING

GREELEY, Colo., Nov. 10.—Harry Weigart, 8 years old, was the principal witness for the state today in the trial of Frank Piel, charged with the murder of George Kerber October 26. Kerber, it is claimed, was stabbed in a drunken row at a ranch near Johnstone. All adults present at the time participated in the orgy and are able to give only hazy accounts of the murder. The little boy and his brother were the only sober persons who saw the stabbing.

ALDRICH IMPRESSED

Great Progress of the West Opens Eyes of Rhode Island Senator.

OMAHA, Nov. 10.—Senator Aldrich arrived here today on his tour in the interest of monetary reform. In addition to an informal speech at the Omaha club in the afternoon, he delivered an address tonight before the Commercial club.

At the night meeting Senator Aldrich again went over the work of the commission to date and again outlined the labor before it, appealing, as at previous meetings, to bankers and to business men to study the question of banking and currency reform. He expressed himself as amazed by the progress of the west.

Senator Aldrich has received many pressing invitations to visit a number of other western cities, but has been compelled to decline all because present engagements take him up to the meeting of the commission on November 20.

NEW U. S. SENATOR

F. L. Thompson, Democratic "Dark Horse," Succeeds Johnson of North Dakota.

BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 10.—Fountain L. Thompson of Cando, N. D., was today appointed United States senator by Governor Burke to fill out the unexpired term of Senator M. N. Johnson, who died three weeks ago.

The appointment of Mr. Thompson, a Democrat, was somewhat a surprise, as he was a dark horse in the race. The announcement was made after a long conference in which leading Democrats in the state participated.

Mr. Thompson is a close personal friend of Governor Burke and it is said that his appointment was decided upon after it was seen that the Democratic leaders of the state were hopelessly divided.

UNUSUAL ACCIDENT CLAIMS 14 LIVES

CAR OF LUMBER RUNS AWAY NEAR VANCOUVER.

Crashes Into Crowded Electric Car and Shatters It to Slivers.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 10.—Fourteen men were killed and nine seriously injured, of whom three may die, in a headon collision on the Interurban line of the British Columbia Electric Railway company at Lake View station early today. The dead and injured were passengers and crew on a car which left Vancouver station for New Westminster. Not a man of the 23 on the car escaped death or injury.

The accident was caused by the breaking of a [illegible] on an east-bound flat car heavily loaded with big [illegible] lumber. This car, suddenly released, was soon plunging headlong down the grade toward the outward bound passenger car. Within two minutes the cars met.

The heavy lumber on the flat car, some a foot thick, was hurled through the passenger coach, sweeping away almost every vestige of the car body between the roof and floor. Propelled by the terrific momentum the timbers shot clear through the car, mowing down every man in their path.

BOOKMAKERS FAKED OUT OF THOUSANDS

DENVER FRATERNITY VICTIMS OF WIRE TAPPERS.

False Odds on Latonia Race Sent Out and Big Cleanup Made.

DENVER, Nov. 10.—Between $50,000 and $70,000 was obtained in this city and suburbs and in Salt Lake yesterday as the result of what is believed to have been a cleverly executed job of wire tapping near the Latonia race track, and in which the odds on Howard Pearson, winner of the sixth race, were boosted from 7 to 1 to 20, and even as high as 40 to 1.

Bookmakers here and at Englewood and Littleton reluctantly admit that they lost heavily on the race. Many Denver bookmakers today are refusing to pay bets on the race.

Some Denver sporting men scout the idea that the killing was due to wire tapping. They say that the horse was strongly "touted" by a number of "tip bureaus," and that the long odds, resulting from a mistake in sending the betting from the track, caused an unusually heavy play among those who follow the "dope" closely.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN

EASILY DIGESTED FATS.

Milk fat is, of all the animal fats, the most easily assimilated, and yet olive or peanut oil is superior in food value. Butter soon spoils, and rancid butter is not improved by cooking. In this respect artificial butter is better. Whole wheat bread and butter, or bread and olive oil, make a ration that will sustain life indefinitely. And bread and nuts, with a separate meal of fruit, make a most nourishing dietary. The invalid is always instructed to take his toast without butter, but it is important that he should then take a tablespoonful of olive oil, with prunes, in the evening, or with lettuce in the morning.

MOBS SEEK LIFE OF ALLEGED MURDERER

Negro Accused of Cairo Crime Is Spirited From Place to Place.

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 10.—Will James, alias "The Frog," a negro suspected of murdering Miss Annie Pelley Monday night, was taken out of Cairo on the northbound Illinois Central train tonight.

While the negro has not confessed, the police say they have much evidence against him. A large crowd had been around the county jail and it was feared an attempt would be made to lynch James tonight.

Information has reached here that Sheriff Davis took James off the train at Dongola, Ill., to avoid a mob that had formed at Anna to lynch him. Anna is the former home of Miss Pelley. It is reported now that the sheriff will bring the negro back to Mound City, eight miles above Cairo.

If James is put in jail near here the structure is sure to be stormed. His removal tonight followed several incipient attempts to lynch him.

A long distance telephone message from Dongola, Ill., said that after James was taken off the train there, he was rushed into the woods by the sheriff, his deputy and another man. Dongola is 10 miles from Anna, where a mob was waiting for the arrival of the train.

When the people here learned that James had been spirited beyond their immediate reach they became excited. The crowd around the jail made open threats against James.

$8,000 FOR LOSS OF HUSBAND'S LOVE

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 10.—The jury in the suit of Mrs. Beatrice Hill Gadsby, who sought $200,000 damages from William Gadsby, her father-in-law, a business man of this city, for the alienation of the affections of her husband, Walter Gadsby, returned today a verdict of $8,000 damages in favor of the complainant.

ACTRESS GETS DECREE

Margaret Illington Obtains Absolute Divorce From Daniel Frohman. — Case Uncontested.

RENO, Nev., Nov. 10.—Margaret Illington Frohman, wife of Daniel Frohman, the New York theatrical man, was granted an absolute decree of divorce from her husband by Judge Pike this afternoon.

The hearing occupied the district court for only 25 minutes, only one other witness besides the plaintiff testifying. The grounds were nonsupport.

A document accepting service and waiving all right to answer, sworn to by Daniel Frohman, was read in the hearing.

HAMBURG BELLE DEAD.

TRAIN IS DITCHED

Rio Grande Wreck West of Buena Vista—None Seriously Injured

BUENA VISTA, Colo., Nov. 10.—Westbound Denver and Rio Grande passenger train No. 3, running an hour late, was wrecked at 5:30 o'clock this morning at Kobe, a siding 20 miles west of Buena Vista.

Six cars and the engine went into the ditch, but according to reports received here none of the passengers or members of the train and engine crew were seriously injured.

The wreck was caused by either a misplaced or a broken switch, which allowed the train to leave the main line and take the ditch. The road was blocked until late [illegible]

CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE DRINKING CUP

MAY BE TAKEN AWAY FROM PUBLIC FOUNTAINS.

Health Department Wants More Money. Question of Burning Leaves Discussed.

Dr. A. C. Magruder yesterday addressed the City Council regarding the antituberculosis campaign, and strongly urged the abolition of the drinking cups at the city fountains, recommending the substitution of sanitary fountains, as are used at the library and cemetery. City Physician O. R. Gillett and Health Commissioner E. W. Frost also joined in this recommendation. A conference was arranged for 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, when the Council will discuss the general campaign with the committee of 15 in charge. The committee will ask that the appropriation of the health department be increased by $2,500 to enable the employment of an additional inspector to carry on the work.

Mayor Criticised.

Commissioner Whitaker brought up the question of burning leaves promiscuously in this city, and criticised the Mayor's action in allowing leaves to be burned all over town at the same time. He said that sections should be laid out, and burning permitted in one district at a time, to diminish danger from fire. Mayor Avery replied that he would insist that his permit to burn leaves be general, unless directed otherwise by the Council.

Burning Leaves.

Dr. Gillett then raised the question from the health point of view, and a communication from the Tuberculosis association was read, protesting against the burning of leaves on the ground that the smoke is injurious to those afflicted with lung trouble. An animated discussion followed, but no action was taken. The Mayor said that he wants an ordinance passed that each man haul away his own leaves.

Commissioner Frost introduced an ordinance restoring the half-holiday at the city hall, and Mayor Avery said that if the city employes do not work Saturday afternoons, he will insist on reducing their salaries accordingly. The ordinance was laid over till tomorrow, when Commissioner Lawton is expected back.

The scale ordinance was discussed yesterday, but no action was taken.

WARRINER WAS URGED BY WIFE TO CONFESS

Disregarded Advice and Lost—Another Woman Promises to Reveal the Facts.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Jeanette Stewart, also known as Mrs. Ford, one of the women accused by Charles L. Warriner, defaulting local treasurer of the Big Four railroad, of having shared in his peculations by blackmailing him, declared tonight that she would tell the whole story of the $643,000 theft when the case came to court. At the same time Mrs. Stewart denied she had ever received money from Warriner.

Mrs. Warriner was aware of her husband's defalcations since the time that the first attempt was made to levy blackmail upon him, according to Judge S. O. Baylers, Warriner's attorney. Judge Bayless declared Warriner had told his wife the position he was in and that she had urged him to confess everything. The treasurer, however, convinced himself that his market speculations would enable him to make good his shortage and he had refused to follow his wife's advice.

It is admitted by railroad officers that Warriner might have continued his depredations indefinitely if he had not been betrayed by a woman and that even then he might still have fooled his superiors, so great was their confidence in him.

TRAIN ROBBERS FOILED.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 10.—An attempt to rob New York Central train No. 24, the American express, between Lyons and this city tonight, was frustrated and two men were arrested. A third is believed to have fallen under the train and been killed.

WHAT COLORADO HAS TO BE THANKFUL FOR

Governor Shafroth Tells the East Prosperity Reigns in Land of Sunshine

DENVER, Nov. 10.—Governor John F. Shafroth has already decided why Colorado should give thanks this year and why the nation should observe Thanksgiving. In reply to a New York paper the governor wired today:

"Colorado has enjoyed the most general prosperity in its history. Our mines have continued to pour out their wealth, our farms have produced more abundant crops of all kinds and labor has been constantly employed. Our churches and schools have multiplied, and our citizens of all classes have had increased happiness and comfort. We stand ready to welcome the unemployed of other states with opportunities where all willing hands can find something to do.

"The nation has cause to be grateful for the peaceful relations maintained with the rest of the people of the world under a government where law abides [illegible] and individuals."

WHITE HOUSE AGAIN SHELTERS CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Taft Reaches Home Safe and Well After Longest Presidential Journey on Record.

LEAVES AGAIN TODAY

President Will Not Make Any Important Appointments Till First of Year.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—After an absence of more than three months in which he has made a 13,000-mile trip through the west and south, President Taft slept tonight in the White House.

He left the capital August 6, with the cheers of the crowds ringing in his ears. He returned tonight to the tune of the same cheers, but he tarried only a moment with the welcoming parties. His objective point was the White House and Mrs. Taft and, as quickly as he could get away from the brief speeches of welcome, he climbed into his big automobile. The chauffeur broke all speed records for the district.

There was no demonstration at the White house. The special police kept the curious outside the grounds and when Mr. Taft alighted and ran quickly up the steps he turned for a moment and waved a farewell to Fred Carpenter, his secretary, Colonel Spencer Cosby and Captain Archie Butt, his military aides, who had accompanied him from the station. Then the big swinging doors of the White House swallowed him for the night.

Two hours before the President's train was due the crowds began to fill the Union station. There was an unusual gathering of police, secret service men and detectives. When the train rolled in from Richmond on time there was an imposing throng on the platform. There were a few women, but for the most part the space was taken up by silk-hatted committees.

"Mr. President, I want to welcome you back to the capital on behalf of the members of the chamber of commerce," said President Gude of that body, capturing Mr. Taft as soon as he alighted.

Is Feeling Fine.

"Thank you," replied the President, removing his hat and smiling on the crowd. "I'm glad to get back. Let me see. I left here August 6, didn't I? Well I am back again feeling just as well as when I went away—or even better."

Preceded by Captain Butt and followed by Secretary Meyer and a throng of personal friends, Mr. Taft then made his way up the stairs and across the concourse of the station to the waiting room set aside for the President's use. Everyone except members of the cabinet was excluded.

In spite of the "dress rehearsal" of the cabinet held at the department of justice last Monday night there were some violations of ethics in wearing apparel. Secretary Nagle daringly wore a white tie with his frock coat and silk hat and this lapse seemed to jar the aesthetic natures of some of his fellow statesmen.

In any event, Secretary Nagle and five other members of the cabinet disappeared quickly, leaving Secretary Knox and Postmaster General Hitchcock with the President. The three conversed earnestly for two or three minutes, after which Mr. Taft made his way to the White House automobile.

The President did not appear to have been fatigued by his long trip. Apparently he was no stouter than when he left, although it was whispered among his intimates that he had picked up several pounds. When asked about it he laughingly spread out his arms and invited inspection.

When President Taft spoke at the city auditorium in Richmond this afternoon he made the 266th speech of the long trip, which according to the itinerary, covered 12,759 miles, but with side trips amounted to more than 13,000 miles.

In the trip from Richmond the President had an extended conference with Secretary Meyer disposing of a number of matters that have been pending in the department, including the scheme of reorganization. The results of the conference will be announced after Secretary Meyer has worked out the plans.

Gone Again Today.

President Taft declared, excepting his impatience to be with Mrs. Taft again he would not mind if the trip should continue two or three weeks longer. He has been greatly fatigued at the end of some of the long programs of entertainment in a number of cities but a good night's sleep always puts the President in the best of shape.

Mr. Taft's stay in Washington will be brief, as he will leave tomorrow afternoon for Middletown, Conn., and Hartford, Conn. The President will return to Washington Saturday and Monday he will settle down to the routine work of his office.

President Taft said tonight that he would not make any important appointments until after January 1. He will not fill the vacancy on the supreme court bench until after Congress meets.

LINDSEY CRITICIZES PENNSYLVANIA PLAN

ATLANTIC CITY, Nov. 10.—At the opening session of the National Mothers congress last night a letter from Judge Ben O. Dindsey of Denver, read by Mrs. David O. Mears of Albany, chairman of the executive committee, contained a sharp criticism of the proposed amendment to the Pennsylvania law providing for juvenile courts. In his communication Judge Lindsey intimated that the changes would provide berths for politicians and would jeopardize the work of the courts.

BERGER CALLS BLUFF OF BRADY FOR JEFFRIES

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The sporting world, just now keenly interested in the coming Jeffries-Johnson fight, noted with interest today the report of an offer by William A. Brady, a theatrical manager, to post $10,000, the entire sum to go to Jeffries, if he would agree to fight Al Kaufman within 90 days. Interest increased when no word of reply came from Jeffries, but tonight the bottom dropped out when Sam Berger, Jeffries' manager, did some talking.

"When the bids have been opened and the club and date for the Jeffries-Johnson fight have been settled upon, if William A. Brady comes forward with the $10,000 cash, then Jeffries will consider meeting Kaufman," said Berger.

As it is now, Berger said, neither he nor Jeffries considered Brady's published offer seriously. They heard nothing of it, he said, except through the newspapers.

BRING BAND TO TIGER GAME

Special to The Gazette.

BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 10.—It has been definitely decided that the band will accompany the rooters from the State university to Colorado Springs, where Colorado plays Saturday for championship honors.

A special train will go through from Boulder to Colorado Springs, leaving here at 7:45 in the morning and returning leaving the Springs at 7:30.

Coach Folsom believes that the Colorado-Colorado College game will be the hardest contest of the season, and he is exerting every effort to get his men in shape. The football team will go to the Springs Friday night and will be at the Acacia hotel. It looks now as if a godly bunch of rooters and townspeople would follow the team. The announcement that the band was to be taken acted as an impetus to the student body to make the trip.

Captain Stirrett has nothing to say in regard to the game. He has refused for several days to make any statements. When asked today if he expected a hard game, he merely nodded his head affirmatively.

All of the regular Colorado men will be in the game. There are not any football candidates on the hospital list and the team that has played this season thus far is the team that will win the Colorado letter at the end of the season and will play the position the remaining games. The lineup will be: Newton, center; Bowler and Prince, guards; Slusher and O'Brien, tackles; Mills and Gilligan, ends; Stirrett or Randolph, quarter; Keim and McFadden, halves, and Stocker, fullback.

STRANG LOWERS TRACK RECORDS AT ATLANTA

Chalmers Detroit Cars Win Feature Event—Rain Causes Two Postponements.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 10.—Two heartbreaking finishes, the lowering of the track records by Strang, and rain, which caused the postponement of two events, were features of the second day of the automobile speedway opening meet.

After many disappointments yesterday, Harding today drove an Apperson "Jack Rabbit" to victory in a 10-mile contest. The Buick car won the amateur 10-mile free-for-all by 1-100th of a second, but lost the feature event, 100 miles, on the last lap. The Buick was driven by Joe Nelson, Chevrolet's mechanician, and he lost on the last lap to Will Knipper, when his lubricating oil became exhausted.

Lewis Strang was compelled to withdraw from the 10-mile race for large stock cars after the first lap, in which his Fiat "60" had assumed the lead. He captured two other races in his 200-horsepower Fiat with ease. He defeated Oldfield and Christie in a specially arranged 10-mile race in the remarkable time of 0:07:01:94, averaging about 0:30:50 to the mile, excepting in the last lap, when he "blew" a tire and had to reduce speed at the turns. This alone prevented him from negotiating this distance in less than seven minutes. As it was his time broke Aiken's new record made yesterday of 8:02:41.

In the four-mile event Strang averaged 0:41:11. George Robertson was compelled to withdraw his Fiat from both events in which he was entered.

The feature of the day, the 100-mile light stock car race, ended in first and second places going to the Chalmers-Detroit drivers, Knipper and Matson, respectively. At the start Nelson fought Matson for second place, eventually winning it when the latter stopped for repairs.

MORRISON ALL-COLORADO TACKLE, BARRED FROM BOULDER GAME; GLOOM SUCCEEDS CONFIDENCE IN TIGER CAMP AT WASHBURN FIELD

"They sure handed me a big bunch. I think it was a dirty deal. Only yesterday, I was told by a faculty member that I would be permitted to play in the Boulder game. A week ago, Dean Parsons assured me that I was eligible and Coach Richards was also told that I could play.

"I gave up a good position to enter school, and was promised then that I could play in the big games, providing my school work was good. I have studied hard and have kept up in my classes, and now I am canned from the team.

"It looks as if there is nothing for me to do but quit school." Statement of Dick Morrison.

With the Boulder game, the hardest contest of the season, only four days off, the Colorado College faculty has declared Dick Morrison, all Colorado tackle last year, and the mainstay of the Tiger line this fall, ineligible.

The confidence and enthusiasm which has been so marked at Colorado College this week, has been replaced by gloom and the most optimistic of the Tiger fans, are now on the anxious seat. With Morrison out of the game, it is feared that the Tiger line will be unable to withstand the plunges of Stocker, Boulder's beefy fullback.

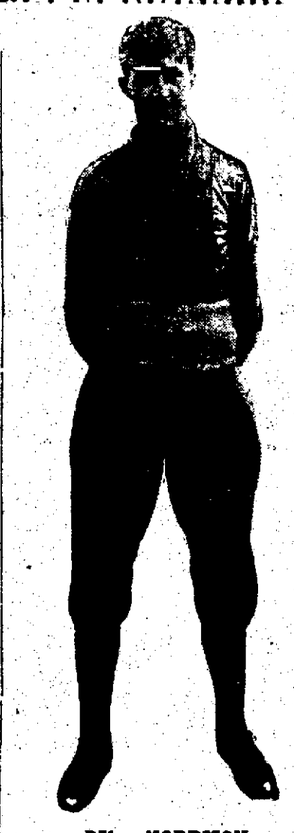

Coach Richards is mad as a wet hen. He does not criticise the action of the faculty in barring Morrison, but he says it is unjust to the team, that this action should have been taken so near the date of the crucial game.

Dean E. S. Parsons, chairman of the Colorado Faculty Athletic conference, deplores the necessity of the faculty's action, but says that no other course was left open. The delay was due to a misunderstanding of the conference rules. Up to this week, the faculty believed that Morrison would be eligible.

Steele, who played center last year, was put in last night in Morrison's place. He is a husky fellow and should make a creditable showing in the line. Coach Richards drilled his men last night in blocking punts, and put the ends through some long runs after punts. Secret practice was held in the gymnasium. The Tigers will scrimmage no more this week.

In spite of Morrison's fate, every player is determined to play the game of his life to bring victory to the Orange and Black Saturday. The team play and interference, which were entirely lacking last Saturday, have developed during the week, and the Tigers are now moving like a well-oiled machine. The team is gingery and Quarterback Sherry has his men doing snappier work than at any time this season.

The Tigers will have a few pounds the better of Boulder on weight. So long as the first team men hold out the locals have a good chance. But they are shy on subs, having only four men to replace injured players. The substitutes are: Putnam, quarter, first season; F. Morrison, end, first season; Wilson, full or half, second season; and Roe, guard, first season. Following are the weights of the Tiger players and the length of their football careers in college: Hedblom, center, 180, first year; Thompson, right guard, 170, first year; Reichsmuth, left guard, 190, first year; Cary, captain, right tackle, 192, fourth year; Steele, left guard, 188, second year; Sinton, right end, 175, second year; Copeland, left end, 155, first year; Sherry quarter, 140, third year; Copeland, left end, 155, first year; Sherry, quarter, 140, third year; Vandemoer, right half, 170, second year; Heald, full, 175, second year; Whitaker, left half, 175, second year; Wilson, 175, second year; Putnam, 140, first year; F. Morrison, 145, first year; Roe, 165, first year.

DEAN PARSONS EXPLAINS RULING OF CONFERENCE

Dean Parsons, chairman of the Faculty Athletic conference, last night issued the following signed statement explaining the situation.

Among the rules adopted by the Colorado Faculty Athletic conference is the following:

"Any student participating in any intercollegiate game, who shall leave his institution before the end of the semester of term, unless for illness or equally good reason, or who shall not have passed his work to the satisfaction of the faculty, shall not be eligible to compete in any branch of intercollegiate athletics until he shall have again been in residence a full semester or term."

The full significance of this rule was not understood until the cases of two or three football men came before the conference at its meeting on November 4. At that time it became perfectly clear that Mr. Morrison, having obtained an insufficient number of credits last year, was not eligible to play this semester. The most unfortunate element in the situation was that I personally—no one else should be blamed—because of my misunderstanding of the rule, a misunderstanding in which Dr. Norlin of the University of Colorado shared, had given assurances to Mr. Morrison and to his many friends both inside and outside the institution, that if he did satisfactory work in his courses this semester he would be eligible to play. The other institutions in the conference, knowing our local situation and our misunderstanding of the rule and the promises we had made, decided not to act in the case, but left it to the faculty of Colorado College to say whether or not Morrison should play. After a most serious canvass of the whole situation the faculty decided that, in view of the part we had taken in the organization and the development of the conference, the only right course for us to pursue was to abide absolutely by the rules we had helped to make, and to exclude Mr. Morrison from intercollegiate athletics for the rest of the present semester. The vote was taken at a meeting held yesterday afternoon. In the evening the whole matter was gone over in detail with the student commission, and they unanimously supported the action of the faculty.

The whole experience has been a bitter one for the students and the faculty of Colorado College, but the sacrifice has been made in the hope and the belief that thereby the conference will be strengthened and the cause of pure athletics in the state materially advanced.

I cannot close without voicing my admiration of the manly spirit in which Mr. Morrison has met the situation. Mr. Richards, too, has accepted the decision with equanimity, and will do his best to have the team make good in spite of this serious handicap.

EDWARD S. PARSONS.

ORGANIZED BASEBALL NOW REIGNS SUPREME

California State League Gives Up Fight and Enters National Association.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 10.—The admission of the California State league into organized baseball, the re-election of President M. P. Sexton of Rock Island, and a spirited fight by the Northwestern league for special legislation were features of the second session of the annual meeting of the National Association of Minor Leagues today.

The elimination of drafting and the setting of a flat draft price on all minor leagues, regardless of the classification of the organization, also were discussed and may be taken up by the constitution revision committee, which will report tomorrow. Seven cities made bids for the 1910 convention.

There was little opposition to the ratification of the agreement drawn up by J. H. Farrell, secretary of the National association, and Frank Herrmann, president of the California State league. A few owners who lost title to players by the agreement were inclined to enter objections, but when it was explained that the men in question were ineligible to play anywhere else than in that league because they had been suspended for three years for violating a reserve clause and five years for failure to observe a contract, the opposition was inclined to become reconciled to the situation.

COLLEGE MEN ASK THAT MURPHY BE ALLOWED PLAY

In hopes that Murphy, the giant Tiger fullback, who would prove a most valuable asset in the game with Boulder Saturday, 20 college men yesterday presented a petition to Dean E. S. Parsons, and to the faculty athletic committee asking that Murphy be allowed to play in the game Saturday, giving as their grounds the fact that he had just successfully passed an examination in one of his last year's topics. They state that Murphy has now lived up to the eligibility rules, and ask that any further ban be removed. Dean Parsons stated that he was not certain in the matter, but that he thought that Murphy had not done enough work to allow him to play. The athletic council met last night in regard to the athletic situation, but no action was taken. The action in Murphy's case will be announced today.

Old Way of Dosing the Stomach Abandoned by Specialists.

Suppose you scratch your hand—do you dose the stomach to cure the wound? Don't you wash and cleanse it instead, and thus let the skin cure itself?

It is the same with Eczema and other skin diseases. To accomplish this cure the best medicine is Oil of Wintergreen Compound, and this must be used in liquid form. The liquid penetrates to the inner skin and kills the germs while soothing the healthy tissue.

This oil of wintergreen compound known as D. D. D. Prescription has only been sold at $1.00 a bottle. But on a special offer we have now arranged with D. D. D. Laboratories for a trial bottle at 25c. It will stop the itch instantly, and we hope you will try it on our assurance.

LACKAYE CLEVER ACTOR

Pleases Colorado Springs Audience in "The Gentleman From Mississippi."

"The Gentleman From Mississippi" is a political play of a kind that does one good to see, especially in these days when so much is written of the sordid side of life under the dome of the national capitol. It tells the story of an honest, easy-going southern senator, who finds early in his first term that he is being victimized by scheming senators and by his own friends, and even, unwittingly, by his own family. His native shrewdness asserts itself and he succeeds in saving his honor and discomfiting his opponents. The play doubtless gives a faithful picture of one phase of Washington life, and contains so much clever comedy that the seaminess of such life is not unpleasantly apparent.

James Lackaye, an actor of merit, has the leading role of Senator Langdon, "the gentleman from Mississippi," and he makes of it one of the most delightful comedy parts seen here in many months. Osborne Searle, as "Bid" Haines, the quick-witted reporter, who becomes Langdon's private secretary, is well equipped for a part which is of scarcely secondary importance. Virginia Pearson, as Carolina Langdon, scarcely measures up to her opportunities, though her work is by no means mediocre. The remainder of the company is of average capacity.

MURDER CASE TO JURY.

BASIN, Wyo., Nov. 10.—After the defense had spent the entire day in closing arguments in which an attempt was made to impeach the testimony of the state's witnesses, the case of Herbert Brink, charged with the murder of Joseph Allemand, owner of the sheep camp raided last summer, went to the jury at 6 o'clock tonight.

SUIT AGAINST W. F. M.

LEAD, S. D., Nov. 10.—Suit was filed yesterday in the federal court at Deadwood for $10,000 damages by the Homestake Mining company against the Lead union of the Western Federation of Miners, charging that the union was interfering with the company's employes in efforts to organize workers.

ISTHMIAN FORTIFICATION BOARD IS APPOINTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The first effective step by the government looking to the defense of the isthmian canal zone was inaugurated when Secretary Dickinson issued an order appointing a joint board of army and navy officers of high rank to investigate the matter. The idea is to have the canal fortified by the time it is completed. It is expected that the recommendations of this body will be presented to Congress at the coming session.

JAMAICA RAVAGED

Hurricane Began Saturday and Island Was Since Then Completely Isolated.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 10.—Jamaica has been cut off from the outside world for nearly five days as the result of a hurricane that began there Saturday night. Owing to the unusual interruption it is feared here that great damage has been done.

Jamaica is in no condition to stand another disaster. Upon the crops, which were ripening, depend in a large measure the future financial standing of the island, which was swept by a hurricane four years ago, and suffered a serious earthquake and fire in 1907.

All efforts to restore the cable connections of the direct West India company have failed.

PUBLIC RULES RAILROADS

President Ripley of Santa Fe Speaks at Banquet of New Association.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Legislation enough for the present, argued men who manage railroads; further federal control, pleaded legislators; co-operation in the interests of fair dealing, urged shippers and others. These varied views were expressed tonight at the first annual banquet of the Railway Business association at the Waldorf Astoria.

The association, a sort of self-constituted medium of conciliation between railways and the public, had as its guests tonight more than 600 men interested in railroads.

With "The Railroads and Public Approval" as his subject, Edward P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe railroad, said that, after all, it was the public that indirectly ruled the great carriers.

MRS. PHIPPS TAKES STAND IN READ CASE

Society Leader Tells of Woman's Alleged Attempt at Blackmail and Dynamiting.

DENVER, Nov. 10.—The jury which will hear the case against Mrs. Allen F. Read, charged with attempting to extort $100,000 from Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps by threatening her with dynamite, was completed this afternoon and the taking of testimony was begun.

Mrs. Phipps related the happenings leading up to the attempt of Mrs. Read to force her to bring $100,000 in cash from the International Trust company under threat of death by dynamite. Mrs. Phipps told how Mrs. Read had attempted to secure an interview under the names of Madame Leroy and Mrs. Lyman and related her meeting with Mrs. Read in City park, when the accused woman claimed to be a newspaper woman working in collaboration with Joseph Medill Patterson of Chicago.

She said that Mrs. Read, after entering the Phipps automobile, drew two sticks of dynamite from her handbag and threatened her with instant death if she did not produce the money and forced her to bring her daughter Helen from the Wolcott school to act as a hostage while Mrs. Phipps went into the bank for the money. Mrs. Phipps also related the capture of Mrs. Read outside the bank and told of her attempts to explode the dynamite when seized by the officers. Mrs. Phipps had completed her direct testimony when court adjourned.

FIREMEN OF WESTERN ROADS MAKE DEMANDS

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Locomotive firemen of 42 railroads west of Chicago today filed demands for a wage increase of from 20 to 25 per cent. Approximately 25,000 men are involved in the demands and their territory covers all the west, southwest and northwest portions of the United States. Coupled with the demands for higher wages is another for recognition of the claim of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen to legislate for engineers who are members of the firemen's organization.

WESTERN SLOPE CONGRESS.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Nov. 10.—Shortage of refrigerator cars for shipment of this year's Grand valley fruit crop and means of preventing a similar shortage in the future were chief topics at today's joint sessions of the Western Slope Development congress and the Western Slope Stock Growers association.

An immigrant road from Grand Junction to Salt Lake was proposed today in the discussion of good roads propaganda. Conservation of natural resources and freight rates will be the chief topics at the concluding sessions tomorrow. Governor Shafroth of Colorado and Governor Spry of Utah will be the principal speakers.

BUTTER TRUST IN WESTERN STATES?

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 10.—According to a letter received by the state board of railroad commissioners from the bureau of animal industry at Washington and made public today, the Beatrice Creamery company owns a controlling interest in the larger creameries of 10 states in the middle west and so controls prices for butter fat that the smaller creameries "dare not raise the price above that paid by the larger concerns for fear of being put out of business."

RUN OVER BY ENGINE, OFFERS TO BUY DRINKS

DENVER, Nov. 10. The record for narrow escapes from death has been broken by a Wyoming man according to reports brought to Denver by Union Pacific employes. They say a drunken man fell between the Union Pacific rails in the terminal yards at Rawlins last week and went to sleep. A switch engine passed entirely over him without so much as clipping a button from his garments. When the train crew went to him, expecting to find his mangled body, the man sat up and asked the crew to go and have a drink with him.

SAVE YOUR TEETH FROM THE SCOURGE OF PYORRHEA

Pyorrhea or Riggs disease is the most dangerous and destructive of all the diseases of the teeth and mouth. It may be detected in the early stages by a slight soreness of the gums and tendency to bleed easily. As it becomes more advanced the gums become inflamed and sore, the teeth loosen and spread or move from their proper position and if allowed to continue will result in the loss of all the teeth. This disease is considered incurable by the majority of the dental profession. We are making a specialty of the treatment of this condition and have successfully treated a large number of cases, any of which we can give you as reference and furnish you with convincing evidence that we do permanently cure pyorrhea. If you have any of the symptoms we have described it is a dangerous condition, and you will lose your teeth unless they are properly treated. We are replacing missing teeth by the Maxillary Method and these are the most perfect artificial dentures made. Crowns, plates, dental bridgework, made by scientific methods that cannot be detected from the most perfect natural teeth. You cannot afford to lose your natural teeth, no matter what may be their present condition. We are saving teeth that are considered hopelessly decayed and diseased. AN OBJECT LESSON.

THE dust storm which blew up Tuesday night was another reminder to Colorado Springs that street paving has already been too long delayed. For several weeks we have enjoyed comparative immunity from this nuisance, but this condition was too good to last.

A severe Colorado Springs dust storm is an almost intolerable nuisance. Mud is bad enough, but it is not as bad as dust for it does not get into your eyes and under your collar. You can shut it out of your home, and even when you venture outdoors you can manage to escape it by picking your way carefully over the crossings. But a Colorado Springs dust storm is quite the most objectionable visitation that nature inflicts on us. There is no escaping it, no hiding from it or running away from it. Bolt the windows and bar the doors, and still the dust sifts in through the tightest cracks. It defies weather strips, brooms, dustpans and scrub-brushes, and after the wind has died away every householder in town finds her home filled with the unpleasant results of its work.

It would be hard to estimate the actual monetary loss inflicted by the dust storms, even in the business districts, but it must be considerable. Such merchandise as dry goods, clothing, jewelry, and other articles easily injured by dirt are seriously damaged, and the most aggravating part of it is that no precaution the merchant can take will avail to save him from the loss. He has not even the means of relief, which the householder has, of keeping the door closed, for if he did this he might as well go out of business.

PAVE THE STREETS. The only remedy for the dust nuisance that offers the slightest hope is the paving of the entire business district. By far the greater part of the volume of dust that strikes any given spot is swept up by the wind in its immediate vicinity. Even if the business district were paved a good deal of dust would continue to blow in from the outlying streets, but the dense clouds of gritty sand which cause the most annoyance, would be prevented.

City Engineer Waggener is now compiling estimates on the cost of paving, which will soon be ready for submission to property owners. When this is done it will doubtless be an easy matter to obtain the necessary signatures. Whatever the cost may be there is hardly a possibility that it can be sufficiently large to justify failure to make this improvement. Scores of other cities throughout the country which are much smaller than Colorado Springs have long since paved their streets, and we certainly cannot afford to lag behind.

POLITICS IN THE PHILIPPINES.

The recent general election in the Philippines resulted in the expected victory for the Nationalist party. The next Assembly will be composed of sixty Nationalists and thirty Progressists and Independents, and the Nationalists have also gained four provincial governors. The Nationalist party is the one that "demands" independence, while the Progressists are satisfied with American rule.

At the beginning of every session of the Filipino Assembly the Nationalist majority goes through the formality of passing a resolution solemnly demanding immediate independence for the islands, and this resolution is as ceremoniously pigeon-holed by the Governor and his associates, who constitute the upper house of the legislative body, and hold the whip hand. Then everybody, including the presumably militant Nationalists, gets down to work and the Assembly proceeds to discharge its duties in a creditably businesslike fashion.

AMERICAN RULE BRINGS RESULTS. The truth is that "immediate independence" is no longer an issue in the Philippines, except for office-getting purposes. The Nationalists make this their campaign rallying cry and thereby retain their majority in the Assembly because it is a catchy slogan with which to appeal to the ignorant multitude.

But every level-headed man in the island, including the Nationalist leaders, knows perfectly well that the termination of American rule would be the worst calamity that could befall the Philippines. For the first time in history they now have an honest, stable and thoroughly efficient government. Road building and other public works are being conducted on a big scale, an excellent public school system has been established and the high percentage of illiteracy is gradually being reduced. Best of all, peace prevails in every part of the archipelago, except in a few remote districts where the people, being absolute savages, fight among themselves because it is their traditional vocation and avocation.

The Philippine Assembly has made an excellent record almost from the beginning, and has fully justified the confidence of President Taft, its real father. The relief from oppressive tariff exactions granted last summer by Congress, is certain to have a highly beneficial effect in reviving industry, and it is clear that the islands are now entering upon a period of unprecedented prosperity. But this would not be the case if the agitation for independence had continued to be a serious factor in their internal affairs.

TOO MUCH SMOKE.

To the general public, and more particularly to sufferers from asthma and other affections of the throat and lungs, there is scant comfort in the reflection that at the present rate all of the dead leaves in town will be burned by the end of another week. Meanwhile, they continue to suffer. The sharp, pungent odor of burning leaves and weeds is a serious annoyance even to the well and strong, but to the sick it is something far worse than an annoyance. And since the burning of leaves is by no means a necessity, the public has a right to protest against the nuisance.

Yesterday City Physician Gillett and other members of the medical fraternity urged the Council to rescind the permission to burn leaves, granted a few days ago, but apparently without effect. The Council seemed unable to hit upon another method of disposing of the leaves, but why does it not adopt the plan, used a few years ago with good effect, of washing them away through the irrigation ditches? There is a sufficient fall from north to south through the entire length of the city to carry a strong stream of water, and by this means it is possible in a single day to dispose of an immense quantity of the leaves. Of course it would be necessary to have a force of men at work to prevent the ditches clogging, but the cost of this would not be great, and even if it were, it would be better than inflicting on the public the intolerable nuisance of noxious smoke.

It is true that this method would dispose of only a part of the leaves, for on most of the streets there are no irrigation ditches. But people who cannot use the ditches for this purpose should be required to have their leaves hauled away, or disposed of in any manner they like except burning.

Senator Tillman may assert all he wants to that he refused to attend that ten-dollar Taft luncheon as a matter of principle, but the unfeeling populace will forever believe that Benjamin stayed away as a matter of principal. He has shown skill before with the double entendre.

Cripple Creek and Victor are reported to favor the commission plan of government as a matter of much-needed economy. Evidently they have found the system costly which gives city officers a chance to work on the commission plan.

The Germans assure us they are for peace, that their national ambitions are purely commercial. Translated from the Japanese, probably.

SMOKE.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

In your editorial yesterday on the "burning leaves" question you state that the "residence portions of the city were enveloped in clouds of dense smoke," notably on Monday. I wish to say that in the portion of the city where I live there was no "dense smoke" on Monday, nor has there been any "dense smoke" on any other day since the cleaning up began.

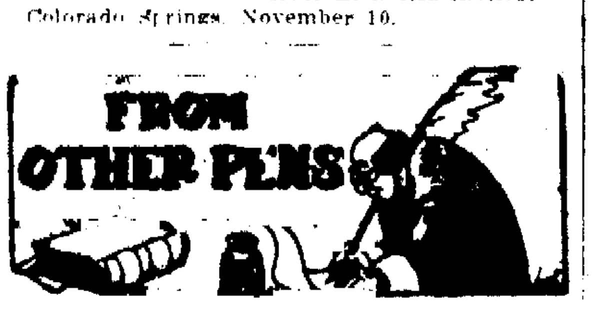

It does seem as though for a few days at this time, the citizens might support a pleasant odor of burning leaves, knowing that it is only a temporary thing and that it saves the city hundreds of dollars for hauling.

The statement that the "thick, penetrating smoke from these fires has a markedly bad effect on persons afflicted with respiratory ailments, and a number of cases have come to the attention in which the illness has been greatly aggravated," is a statement which the writer must believe refers to "bad" mental effects, instead of physical effects. A serious case of asthma is known to the writer to have been cured by smoke. In fact it is a common remedy used by asthmatics. The writer also knows a number of men who are more or less seriously affected with tuberculosis, who will sit in a close room with others and smoke tobacco and breathe an atmosphere so thick with smoke that you couldn't cut it with a knife, and I can hardly believe that their affliction would be "aggravated" by breathing out-of-door ozone slightly tinged with the odor of burning leaves!

Further, it is not at all certain that smoke is injurious to health, some eminent authorities believing it to be antiseptic. An atmosphere like that of Pittsburg which is always charged with smoke—and bituminous smoke at that—might be thought unhealthful, but Dr. Alexander C. Abbott of Philadelphia, when discussing the Pittsburg situation said: "I can scarcely regard it as necessary for a board of health to take up such a matter as the smoke nuisance, for when that question is approached from the health standpoint, a division of opinion is sure to arise, and my thought is that if a successful war is ever to be waged against the smoke nuisance it will be more certainly victorious if the health question be left out entirely. Smoke is destructive to property and is in every way unpleasant, and smoke in the air constitutes a common nuisance, but if an effort be made to declare smoke in the atmosphere a nuisance prejudicial to the public health there will be almost as much testimony that smoke does not cause disease as there will be that it does, and little can be accomplished where such division of opinion exists."

A NORTH END RESIDENT.

Colorado Springs, November 10.

THE FOREGONE VERDICT.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.

The subcommittee of the National Geographical society finds from Peary's records that he reached the North pole. No other verdict was expected. Commander Peary's reputation for reliability and truth prepared the whole world to accept his statement to that effect.

The question which is really at issue is whether it was heresy, treason, felony or malicious mischief for anyone else to discover Peary's North pole. That was really the attitude taken to some degree by Peary's friends and most exigently by Peary himself against a man whose friends regard him with the same trust as Peary's friends do him. The impeachment of Dr. Cook's character evoked in the subsequent controversy has developed specifications that cannot now be settled short of full verification or disproof.

If as many ever the crucial evidence of genuineness or imposture lies in the records, does not the study of those documents demand a longer time than the few days that have elapsed since Peary's records were submitted? If the internal evidence of the papers is sufficient to determine whether they or the whole business is faked we should suppose that the necessary scrutiny to drag out those secrets would be a matter of weeks rather than days.

MR. ROOSEVELT ON FOOTBALL.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

In 1896 when Mr. Roosevelt was president of the police commission of New York city, he went to Harvard in the middle of the football season and talked to the team and its enthusiastic supporters on the subject of "Playing for Harvard." He said: "If a neck is broken occasionally at the game of polo, that is the price we pay for the development of manly courage, virility, in the present generation. If I had a son who refrained from playing football for fear of a broken leg, I'd disinherit him."

Many persons will not coincide with the views of the author of "The Strenuous Life." But they will hesitate before condemning utterly a sport which inculcates the virtues of manly resolution, self-control, fortitude and obedience. The toll of lives taken in playing the game of football does not compare with the number of deaths due to mountain climbing or hunting; indeed, any man who goes into any form of out-of-door diversion with all his might incurs more or less danger. One ancient philosopher remarked that almost every one died in bed. If football must go, what game is there to take its place which, with its objectionable points, has so many counterbalancing features of merit to recommend it?

In days of old the watchman strode adown the lonely village road, and called the hours to those who slept, and often as he called he wept. "It's two o'clock—the night is foul; I'm frozen stiffer than an owl!" The watchman wanted folks to know that he endured all sorts of woe; in summer rain and winter gust, he still was faithful to his trust; and though the night was calm and sweet, he'd go a-bawling down the street: "It's three o'clock an awful night! The weather is a holy fright!" He knew that if the people thought his job was soft, he'd have to trot; his claims for wages wouldn't wash, and he would get the Grand Kibosh. And so along the street he'd hie, and split the welkin with his cry: "It's four o'clock—the night is dour, with earthquakes every other hour!" And there are statesmen nowadays who travel in the watchman's ways; according to their strident vows, we're headed for the bow-wow-wows; but wise men do not heed their sobs; they only howl to hold their jobs.

The Daily Chit-Chat

"Gather ye rosebuds while ye may,
Old time is still a-flying;
And that same flower which blooms today
Tomorrow may be dying."

What perfect times you must have Sundays," I said to a girl whose fiance comes down from the city every week to spend the week end at her lovely seashore home.

A shadow of discontent passed over her face.

"No, they aren't perfect, because I am thinking all the time of Monday," she said.

Do you do that or have you learned to banish Monday?

Better learn if you haven't.

A woman whose sweet and happy disposition is the admiration of all who know her told me that that was one of the most important parts of her philosophy of happiness.

"I have trained myself so that I could spend a perfectly happy day with my husband today even if I knew he were going away for a year tomorrow," she said.

"Oh, no, it didn't come at all easily. I spoiled a great many days before I learned it."

Most of us do, and not all of us learn it at that.

The philosophy of the full enjoyment of every happy hour despite what may be coming in the next hour is one of the hardest things for many people to learn.

One thinks of youth as the age that enjoys each moment to its fullest, but actually I think it is apt to be the older people who know how to do that.

The little verse I quoted at the beginning sounds like the words of an enthusiastic young man, doesn't it?

As a matter of fact, Herrick was between 50 and 60 when he arrived at that conclusion.

And the same idea expressed in prose "Wear your best coat today for tomorrow you may not have it," is not the advice of any young philosopher but part of the mature wisdom of the Talmud.

Youth expects such a plenty of happy moments that it fancies it can afford to spoil some of them by fretting at tomorrow's, but age knows too well the value of happy moments to spoil them in any such foolish way.

If you could have some of the wealth that rich men had laboriously toiled to pile up without working for it as they had, you would think yourself fortunate, wouldn't you?

You may have more than that.

You may have if you will some of the wisdom that wise men have laboriously accumulated by experience, without suffering for it as they did.

You may take if you only will—without having suffered to learn it their conclusion that it pays and is possible to school yourself to enjoy every happy today no matter if its tomorrow is to be the most unhappy of your life.

Milk Toast—Toast the bread quickly and evenly, and slightly butter each piece as soon as taken from the toaster. For six slices scald one pint of milk; rub together three tablespoonfuls of butter and one tablespoonful of flour until smooth. Add to the scalded milk and stir until it thickens. Season with salt; dip each piece of toast in the milk; place in the toast dish and pour over it the remainder of the milk. Serve at once.

Broiled Venison Steak—Venison sometimes has a rather strong taste, and so a little preliminary seasoning will not be out of place. Mix together one cupful of weak vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of currant jelly, one small onion chopped fine, one sprig of parsley, six cloves, a blade of mace, some sweet herbs and the juice of one lemon. Heat slowly and simmer for five minutes, then chill. Pour it over the trimmed venison steak and let stand all day. Drain and wipe the meat, brush both sides with melted butter and broil over a quick fire. Serve with a plain jelly or a brown sauce to which is added one-quarter as much of currant jelly and a little port wine.

ADJUSTABLE EYES.

In children, seemingly good vision is often forced by a curious power of adjustment, even when the eyes are sadly defective. This is at the expense of the most prodigal waste of nervous energy. Such forcing often results in lasting harm, and even blindness in later life. Mothers should learn the signs of eye strain and not attribute them to something else. The New Method Test readily reveals all hidden defects and points to the cure. A positive diagnosis is made without cost. No glasses advised unless actually needed. CANADIAN PARLIAMENT WILL CONVENE TODAY

SESSION OF GREAT INTEREST TO THIS COUNTRY.

Action on Tariff Questions of Important Bearing on Trade.

By Frederic J. Haskin.

The Canadian parliament which meets at Ottawa today will consider at its present session matters of great importance affecting the trade relations between Canada and the United States. A tariff war between the two countries is imminent, and it is probable that the business men of the United States will manifest greater interest in this session of the Canadian parliament than they have in any of its predecessors. It is the usual thing for Americans to complain of British "insularity." But if the signs do not fail the time is upon us when Americans must themselves repent their own provincial self-sufficiency. The Dominion of Canada is a great self-governing nation which forms an important part of the British empire, the mightiest political power of earth. Canada and the United States possess more than 3,000 miles of common boundary lines, and it must be said to the everlasting credit of England and America that it is the longest boundary line on earth guiltless of frowning fortress or menacing man of war. The two nations years ago agreed to limit their naval equipment in the great lakes to one ship each, and not to build and garrison forts along the land boundaries.

The two countries are too close akin to build forts to menace each other. There are no soldiers and sailors to strut in defiance on the two sides of the line, but there are men in uniform who sit at the seat of customs. And now it appears that there is likelihood of a war of trade and taxes between these two peaceful nations in which the custom houses will play large part. Unfortunately, from the point of view of those who live south of the line, tariff wars are not always easy to win, even when a nation outnumbers its opponent in population and wealth many times over. At this particular stage of the game Canada appears to have the whip-hand.

Ignorant of Canada.

Perhaps the chief trouble south of the boundary line, and practically all of the trouble is south of the line, is that the Americans know too little about their northern neighbors. The American newspapers, except those published in the northern tier of states, have less news from Canada than from Bulgaria. It has been the custom to ignore Canada and its aspirations, and it has been too much the fashion to look across the border only with the glint of an Anglo-Saxon land-greed in the eye. In the meantime Canada has been forging ahead, utterly indifferent to the indifference of the Yankees.

Canada has built great transcontinental railroads and is so regulating them that American roads find it increasingly difficult to compete with them. Canada has encouraged shipping, and now plans the construction of a ship canal which will take the great outflow of commerce from the great lakes through British channels to Europe, rather than through American ports. Canada has thrown open its great western country to settlement, and it has tempted many thousands of good Americans to move over the line. This is the first considerable American emigration, and that it is a good thing for Canada is indicated by the fact that the 60,000 Americans who crossed over the boundary last year carried with them $60,000,000, an average of $1,000 each. Did even the United States have that kind of immigration to make it grow?

And now Canada, it seems, is about to apply some practical national wisdom to its tariff problem, a problem to the solution of which much wisdom is devoted in every country, although that wisdom is not always national in scope. The result will be that the United States will have to sit up and take notice. It may not be charged that Canada is taking any unfair advantage, for as a matter of fact the Canadians for years have been willing to enter into treaties which practically would reduce the customhouses along the international border to the innocuous desuetude of the two obsolete war vessels which patrol the great lakes and the St. Lawrence. Perhaps the greater interests of the Americans made such treaties inexpedient. At any rate they do not exist.

The Tariff Question.

Now comes the question of a tariff war. The Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, passed last summer, inaugurated a new feature so far as American tariffs are concerned. It is the maximum and minimum tariff provision, and there is some evidence that the powers that be in Washington are all at sea concerning its powers for good or evil. By the provisions of that clause, all customs duties will be increased automatically 25 per cent on March 31 next unless the President, before that time, by proclamation shall otherwise decree. The President, under the law, is expected to issue the proclamation of exemption from the maximum duties in favor of all countries which do not, in their own tariffs, unduly discriminate against all law and the prophets.

Canada has a triple tariff, consisting of the general, the intermediate and the British preferential tariff. The preferential tariff discriminates in favor of the mother country, just as the Philippines tariff discriminates in favor of the United States. It is hardly to be expected that any President would consider such discrimination to be "undue." The general tariff is in effect against all nations outside the British empire, with the exception of Germany. Canada charges a surtax of Yesterday he received a brief note of thanks and a one-dollar bill.

"That makes me 45 cents ahead," said Bush. "Well, I'm glad I was honest, anyway."

MARRIED LIFE FAILURE FOR THE SECOND TIME

Samuel T. Johnson Gets Divorce Again Says Wife Struck Him in the Face.

The second trial of married life of the Johnsons proved as unsuccessful as the first, judging from the evidence of Samuel T. Johnson before County Judge J E Little yesterday, in his divorce suit against Henrietta G. Johnson. Johnson was granted a decree

His complaint was unusual, inasmuch as it included the charge of cruelty and allegations of physical maltreatment by his wife Johnson averred that his pugilistic spouse "struck him maliciously in the face with her fist to cause him humiliation," and that as a result he underwent great "mental suffering" He says that she further humiliated him by compelling him to keep away from their home and sent their son to Oklahoma against his wishes.

The couple were married in this city in 1907, but, according to the complaint, had been previously married many years before, and were later divorced.

DICK BASSETT FINED

Convicted in Police Court of Conducting Gambling Joint in "Go Broke Alley."

All the precautions against police interference of an up-to-date gambling place, including a "lookout" man to sound a buzzer to warn players in case of a raid, were in vogue at the negro resort in "Go Broke alley," according to the police. The alley, which is so nicknamed because of the gambling which has prevailed there, is in the block bounded by Tejon, Cucharas, Nevada and Huerfano.

Dick Bassett was fined $50 and costs in police court yesterday afternoon for conducting the resort, on complaint of "Doc" Reed, who lost money there.

Joe Lambreth, the negro whose accusation against Robert Powell and Ed Scott caused them to be fined last Tuesday, was himself fined $40 and costs for vagrancy by Magistrate Starrett yesterday morning.

Accumulation of Gas In The Stomach

One of The Most Common Symptoms of Dyspepsia and Deranged Digestion.

The presence of a small quantity of gas in the alimentary canal may be described as constituting the ordinary condition, as certain foods, such as peas, beans, etc., naturally eliminate and create gas while undergoing digestion.

It is only when this gas accumulates to such extent as to cause inconvenience, and belching, that a person may be said to be suffering from flatulence. This collection of gas becomes in extreme cases so great that a swelling presents itself in the pit of the stomach, and when this stage is reached, complaint is made that this part feels tender to the touch, the clothes of the person being loosened to obviate the distress occasioned by pressure.

Attempts are usually made to get rid of this stomach-gas by eructation, and immediate relief is sometimes obtained when this is accomplished Infants are very subject to flatulence, especially when their natural food is taken away too hastily, and when food other than that provided for them by nature is given them Mothers and nurses are familiar with this infantile trouble and have various remedies for it, the most popular of which is charcoal which relieves the trouble completely, by absorbing the stomachic and intestinal gases, thereby removing the colicky pains of the infant, which is the symptom which most frequently causes the nightly crying spells.

Charcoal is a marvelous absorbent, and is capable of oxidizing and absorbing one hundred times its own volume in gases It is applicable to all cases of flatulence or gas in the stomach, and as it is entirely harmless, it can be taken by any one with comparative impunity and without fear of its doing any harm whatever to the system

Infants and old people can use it as readily as young persons and those in the prime of life and nothing but benefit can result from its use It can also be used in any quantity and in this respect it differs from drugs sometimes employed for stomach troubles as the dosage of these must be regulated by a competent physician Not so with charcoal, however as is shown by the fact that a French surgeon used as much as fifteen ounces per day, every day of the last thirty years of his life

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges should be employed in all cases where the stomach is filled with gases resulting from the fermentation and decomposition of food and also from the use of those vegetable foods which seem naturally to engender and promote the accumulation of gas These wonderful little lozenges which have an enormous and ever increasing sale are made from best willow charcoal, combined with pure honey, and furnish to the sufferer from stomach-gases and foul breath, the very best and most palatable and delightful form in which charcoal can be administered to the stomach

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are exceedingly agreeable to the taste, in striking contrast and contra-distinction to the ordinary powdered charcoal which is a most unpleasant dose to take Purchase a package of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges today from your druggist for 25 cents, and send us your name and address for free sample package Address F A Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg Marshall, Mich.

COLORADO WOMEN HAVE AS MANY RIGHTS AS MEN

Kinsley Gives Address on Their Legal Status at Meeting of Woman's Club.

Samuel H. Kinsley, a well-known Colorado Springs lawyer, spoke at a meeting of the social science department of the Woman's club yesterday afternoon on "The Legal Status of Women in Colorado." The programs given by the club this year deal largely with problems of women and the home. At the close of the address, several pertinent questions were asked by club members.

SAMUEL H. KINSLEY.

In the absence of the chairman, Mrs. A. J. Carper, who was detained at her home by illness, Mrs. F. W. Goddard presided. Mrs A L Mowry, Mrs W. A. Shepard and Mrs. J. P. Madden were appointed a committee from the department to prepare the Christmas box for the Girls' Industrial home. The art and literature departments will appoint committees at their next meetings. The evening dinner to be given by the club November 20 under the auspices of the art and literature department, has been postponed to December 11.

In his address, Judge Kinsley said, in part.

At the present time the rights privileges and disabilities of women are substantially the same as those of men in this state. It may be interesting however to briefly review the various steps by which this equality has been attained and to notice some distinctions in the relative rights and disabilities of the sexes.

No distinction in political rights between men and women is recognized in the constitution of the United States. So far as that instrument is concerned a woman has the same rights and is afforded the same protection as a man. There is no re[illegible] holding any office in the federal government, even the exalted position of President, if the electors, by their votes, and in the manner prescribed by law, should choose her for the place, nor does the constitution of the state of Colorado at present make any distinction in the property, personal or political rights of the sexes, although at the time of its adoption the right of suffrage was enjoyed only by male citizens, with the accompanying provision, however, that the legislature might at any time submit to the qualified electors the question of extending the right of suffrage to women.

Ever since the admission of Colorado into the Union the property and personal rights of women, whether married or unmarried, have been substantially the same as those of men. Wherever any distinction has been made it has been entirely in the favor of the gentler sex.

I take it, however, that the purpose in inviting an address upon this subject was to have explained and stated the actual rather than the relative, rights of women. These may be divided generally into three classes—personal rights, property rights and political rights although in the discussion of the various laws affecting women in this state, it will be found that some rights might perhaps fall under two or more of these general subjects.

Personal Rights.

Women may inherit and hold property, and dispose of the same by deed or will; they may engage in any lawful business, and they may make any contract regarding their services or property. A female becomes of age and passes out of the disabilities of infancy at the age of 18 years, while the male is considered an infant until he is 21.

There are certain humane provisions of the law enacted for the benefit of women which are not enjoyed by men, for instance, it is made unlawful for a woman over the age of 16 years to be required to work or labor for a greater number than eight hours in the 24-hour day in any mill, factory, manufacturing establishment, shop or store, where such labor or occupation requires the woman to stand or be on her feet in order to satisfactorily perform her duties. It is also forbidden that any woman or girl of any age shall be permitted to work in any coal mine. In other respects, however, the freedom of women to work on contract is not restrained.

Property Rights.

Unmarried women have the same property rights as men. A married woman has unrestrained control over her own property which she may own at the time of marriage, or which she may acquire by descent, devise or bequest, and also has certain rights as wife and widow in the property of her husband, which are not possessed by the husband in the property of the wife. A married woman may sue and be sued in all matters, however, relative to her property, person or reputation in the same manner as if she were sole. She may carry on any trade or business, and perform any labor or services on her sole and separate account, and the earnings of any married woman from her trade, business, labor or services shall be her sole and separate property, and may be used and invested by her in her separate name, and she may sue and be sued, as if sole, in regard to her property business labor, services and earnings. She may execute any bond, bill, promissory note, or any other instrument in writing, for the direct payment of money. She may bargain, sell and convey her real and personal property, or enter any contract in reference to the same as if she were sole. She may also engage in business in partnership with her husband or with another.

The law imposes upon the husband the obligation to support his wife and family, and this may be enforced by criminal proceedings if necessary. A wife is under no legal obligation to support her husband, although, for family expenses, and for the education of the children, the property of both husband and wife, or either of them is chargeable, and, in relation thereto, they may be sued jointly or separately.

Of the eight statutory grounds for divorce, seven are common to the husband and wife, that of nonsupport, however, may be invoked only by the wife against the husband.

A will made either by a husband or wife cannot legally alienate more than one-half of the property of the testator from the other, and if in terms a will should attempt to deprive a husband or wife of more than one-half of the estate of the deceased, it would to that extent be invalid. If a man dies leaving no will, and be survived by a wife and children, the wife would inherit one-half of his property, real and personal, and the children the other half, or, if there be no children, then the widow would inherit all of the property of her intestate husband.

Widow Is Favored.

A widow is more favored by the law than is a widower, for, in addition to being entitled to one-half of the husband's property, she may also be awarded what is called a widow's allowance, up to the amount of $2,000, which takes precedence over all other claims except funeral expenses, physicians' bills and other expenses of last illness, and the expenses of the administration and settlement of the husband's estate.

While the husband and wife are living together, either may acquire a homestead right in the real property of the other where they are residing, and when a homestead is claimed by either husband or wife, both must join in the deed, or a conveyance thereof will be invalid. The law also provides against the disposition by the husband of the household goods of the family without the consent of the wife, for it is forbidden him to dispose of such household goods either by sale or chattel mortgage, without the wife joining in the instrument of conveyance.

The wife is also protected against the assignment by her husband of his wages or salary, and his attempt to dispose of his wages or salary by assignment prior to the payment of the same is invalid without her consent.

It will thus be seen that wives are extended as large a measure of protection as is possible against the improvidence of their husbands.

Political Rights.

Ever since Colorado has been a state women have been permitted to vote at school elections and to hold the office of school director. Until 1893 they had no greater right of suffrage. In that year, however, there was submitted to the qualified electors of the state a proposition to extend to women full electrol rights, and this proposition was approved by a large majority at the fall election that year. The right to vote carried with it the right to hold office under the laws of the state and this right has been freely claimed, and, in many instances, freely accorded to them. The highest state office held by a woman has been state superintendent of public instruction. None have been elected to the state senate, but many have been chosen to the house of representatives. Many county and municipal offices have been held by women, and in the campaigns preceding the various elections women have taken an active and effective part.

Soon after the extension of the franchise at a banquet held in the city of Denver, the toast was proposed, "The women of Colorado, once our superiors but now our equals," a cynical sentiment which I am sure is not shared by this audience.

While at first the entrance of women into political life seemed to have no appreciable effect in reducing the contentions or corruptions which were prevalent in our elections, in later years their influence has been marked in favor of political purity and moral reforms.

Age a Secret

A concession to the popular conception of a certain feminine weakness is manifested by the statutory provision that in registering previous to an election a man must include his age as a part of his description while a woman is permitted to say under the head of age merely that she is over 21.

There is one branch of public service from which women are excluded and that is jury duty. By a statute enacted prior to the enfranchisement of women only male inhabitants of the state over the age of 21 years who are citizens of the United States or have declared their intention to become such are competent to serve on juries and in several instances women have been summoned to serve in that capacity but so far as I have been able to ascertain none have actually performed that [illegible]

The tendency of recent legislation has been to extend and confirm personal property and political rights of women and to remove various disabilities to which they have from time to time been subject, so that it may now be said that in the state of Colorado women enjoy and may freely exercise all of the rights and privileges which are possessed by men.

DYSPEPSIA, GAS, HEARTBURN AND ALL STOMACH DISTRESS VANISHES

A Little Diapepsin Makes Your Out-of-Order Stomach Feel Fine in Five Minutes

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from Indigestion, Dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking some Diapepsin.

If your Stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a re-enforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally [illegible] in the sto[illegible]

People [illegible] take a [illegible] and there [illegible] indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn. Sour risings, Gas on Stomach or Belching of undigested food, Headaches, Dizziness or Sick Stomach, and besides what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved five minutes after taking a little Diapepsin.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin now and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT

33 1-3 per cent, above its general tariff on German products, this surtax being imposed in retaliation for German anti-Canadian discrimination. It is within Canada's power to impose such a surtax on any or all American imports.

Canada has a flexible and elastic tariff system. The intermediate tariff provides for certain reciprocal tariff reductions on a liberal scale. The American tariff is absolutely inflexible and non-elastic. The President must impose either the maximum duty of 25 per cent above the regular duties, or he must permit the regular schedule to stand. There is no opportunity to give and take, playing one schedule against the other, such as other nations have.

Probable Action.

The Canadian parliament at its present session most probably will ratify a tariff treaty with France, which will place the Canadian intermediate tariff in effect. This treaty, which already has been ratified by France, gives Canada many advantages in France which the United States can not obtain. Reciprocally, Canada gives France reductions which the United States may not hope for. This, on its face, constitutes discrimination against the United States by both France and Canada. Will Mr Taft consider it "undue" discrimination? And if Canada's action is considered "undue," will reprisals be directed only against France and Canada, or against England as well?

These are some of the questions which the President must decide before March 31. The tariff board, recently appointed by Mr. Taft, is now at work preparing data upon which the President will base his decisions. If he should decide that Canada, by its treaty with France, is unduly discriminating against the United States, then the maximum tariff will be put on goods coming in the States from the Dominion. Whereupon Congress may, if its rulers be so minded, retaliate by the use of increased tariff duties, export duties, surtaxes and all manner of custom house weapons none of which the United States happens to possess. As Canada is the largest foreign market for American manufactured products the question is of some importance. It is big with possibilities, but it is too early to say what are the probabilities. It may be a merry war, it may be a peaceful compromise. If it is the latter it will be by virtue of Mr Taft's decision that the treaty with France is not "unduly" discriminatory. In other words the compromise will have to be made south of the boundary line.

Advantage With Canada

In the meantime the Franco-Canadian treaty will be ratified and its tariff schedules will be in effect. By reason of that fact Canadian exports to France will have a great advantage over American exports. Leaving the details to the tariff experts, it is illuminating to examine one schedule for example. Agricultural implements from Canada will go into French custom houses at a reduction of 40 per cent under the duty charged on American implements. This will make a difference of $3.86 on a mower, $4.82 on a reaper, $8.20 on a binder, and so on. At this time the United States sends five times as much agricultural machinery to France as does Canada. When the new French treaty goes into effect American implements can not compete with those from Canada in the French market. The result will not affect a great American industrial corporation so very much, for the International Harvester company will increase its Ontario plants and move a large section of its business across the border. But it will affect the industry of the country in many other particulars. Whether or not the discrimination is "undue" is for the President to decide.

The maximum and minimum clause of the Payne-Aldrich bill is supported by some able arguments and even its enemies admit that it has much merit. It is also fraught with possibilities of trouble, for it opens up a game at which two nations can play. No three men gathered together by chance will agree upon any phase of the tariff question in America, perhaps, but it is the earnest hope of the majority of business men on both sides of the international boundary that a tariff war with Canada will be averted. Canada has proved itself possessed of a liberal spirit in its actions concerning wood pulp and pulp wood; in that it has not gone nearly so far as it might in protecting its natural monopoly of the white paper supply. The United States will prove equally as liberal in all probability, and there will be no tariff war. But the custom houses are there on the border and men in uniform sit in the seat of customs. Americans will look to Ottawa and the Canadian parliament as they never looked before and perhaps some of them will regret that they have so long refused to know anything about their northern neighbors. The Canadian tariff may yet become a paramount issue.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it is the only medicine for woman's peculiar ailments, sold by druggists, the makers of which feel fully warranted in thus taking the afflicted into their full confidence.

The more known about the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the more confidently will invalid women rely upon it to cure their peculiar weaknesses and derangements. There's no secrecy about its make-up—no deceptive inducements held out to the afflicted. It's simply a good, honest, square-deal medicine with no alcohol, or injurious, habit-forming drugs in its composition. Made wholly from roots. It can do no harm in any condition of woman's organism.

Devised and put up by a physician of vast experience in the treatment of woman's maladies. Its ingredients have the indorsement of leading physicians in all schools of practice.

The "Favorite Prescription" is known everywhere as the standard remedy for diseases of women and has been so regarded for the past 40 years and more.

Accept no secret nostrum in place of "Favorite Prescription"—a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, with a record of 40 years of cures behind it.

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines—sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than "Favorite Prescription." The dishonest dealer sometimes insists that he knows what the proffered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decidedly for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a curative. To him its only a difference of profit. Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

CHAUNCEY OLCOTT AT THE OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

"Ragged Robin" is the title of the new Irish play which will be presented at the Opera House this evening by Chauncey Olcott and a very excellent company of players. The piece, which is from the joint pens of Rida Johnson Young and Rita Olcott, is said to be more along a distinctively Irish and Celtic line than any of the players in which Mr Olcott has appeared in recent years

"Ragged Robin" is the most characteristic Irish play that has been given in this country in years. The Celtic element is strong in the incidental folk lore abounding in the piece and Irish life during the early part of the last century is depicted with amazing fidelity. Mr. Augustus Pitou personally superintended every detail of the production of "Ragged Robin," and has spared neither money nor pains to make it noteworthy in the annals of his many successes. It will be given here with a wealth of scenic effects and a cast of great excellence. Regular prices of admission are charged for this engagement, 50, 75, $1 and $1.50.

CHAUNCEY OLCOTT

"A STUBBORN CINDERELLA."

The latest musical comedy success, "A Stubborn Cinderella," will be seen at the Opera House tomorrow evening. The first act of "A Stubborn Cinderella" is laid on the campus of the University of Columbus, at the unveiling of a statue. The second act depicts a realistic railway wreck, and the third an orange fete at Del Coronado beach, California. The plot of the piece is interesting and unusual and concerns the daughter of a Scottish earl who has never spoken to a stranger. She is among the guests at the unveiling of the statue ... and is ... Mac the leader of the college, with whom she falls in love at first sight. She, however is engaged to Grand Duke Boris, so Colonel Hunt, her bodyguard, interrupts the affair with Mac. The young couple next meet at an orange fete in Del Coronado Beach, California. Lady Leslie is to see for the first time her affianced husband, Grand Duke Boris. It is here that she becomes obstinate and chooses Mac. Harry Stone, a great favorite with local playgoers, will be seen as Mac, and Constance Farmer is the prima donna. Others prominent in the cast are Lillian Rhodes, Marguerite Keeler, Frank Carter, Ezra C Walck, George Romaine, Charles Dameral, Mable Devoie, Bessie Graham, Clyde Hunnewell, Walter Showe and many others, including a chorus of more than 60 beautiful girls who can sing, dance and act.

"A Stubborn Cinderella" is beautifully staged and the costumes of the show girls will prove a delight to the feminine eye, being noted for their gorgeousness, beauty and originality. The slang which played such a prominent part in the authors' other successes has been eliminated entirely in this, which deals with the smart set.

Among the song hits, which number 16, are "Love Me Just Because," "What's the Use?" "Don't Be Cross With Me," "I'm in Love With All the Girls I Know," "None But the Brave Deserve the Fair," "When You First Kiss the Last Girl You Love," and many others.

Reserved seats are now on sale.

GEORGE COHAN IN "THE YANKEE PRINCE."

George M. Cohan, who with his royal family and a big supporting company will present young Mr Cohan's most successful musical comedy, "The Yankee Prince," at the Opera House next Monday evening has written, composed and produced more than 15 plays, eight of which are now before the public.

It has often been asked "Does Cohan ever take any rest or allow himself any amusement?" Very little. When he is on tour he works and when he is in New York he works. He doesn't seem to get any satisfaction out of the ordinary pleasures of his associates and is seldom to be found around cafes, in clubs or other resorts. He has one failing, however, Cohan likes the national game. In fact, he is a "baseball bug" and would rather see a closely contested game on the diamond than eat. Next to this he is a great admirer of the manly art, and never misses a "good go" in the roped arena when one is "pulled off" in his vicinity.

Mr Cohan's working methods are as odd as are his mannerisms. He never does any writing in the day time, preferring the quiet solitude of his studio in the wee sma' hours when all good folks are supposed to be abed. From 1 a. m. 'til daylight are his hours for work, and when he has completed a first act it is put into rehearsal, which he superintends during the day, while he begins on the second act at night and so on.

The sale of seats will begin tomorrow morning. The prices will be the same for reserved seats as charged in Denver, $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50.

ORPHEUM VAUDEVILLE AT THE OPERA HOUSE

On next Saturday afternoon and evening refined vaudeville will be the attraction at the Opera House. Six big acts will go to make up the bill: Florence Wilson, comedienne, Martelli and Rossi, song and story; the dancing De Lacys, Carrie McManus, George Smedley, novelty musical act, Jully Wild and company, musical comedy sketch. The matinee will begin at 3 o'clock, and the general admission price will be: Children, 10 cents, adults, 20 cents. The evening shows will begin at 7 45 and 9 15. Reserved seats will be sold for the first show. The second show will be general admission. The evening prices will be 10, 20 and 30 cents.

"THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE."

Harriet R Labadie of Philadelphia, an entertainer and reader of some note will give the public a literary treat at the First M E church this (Thursday) evening for the benefit of the Protestant Hospital guild. Her subject will be "The Servant in the House," the work that is known far and wide, both as a book and as a play. Mrs Labadie gives a pleasing high-class entertainment and presents the five acts and portrays the various characters in a most charming way, her clear enunciation, emotional force and fascinating manner and voice holds her delighted hearers, and she well deserves the enconiums showered upon her at previous recitals.

NEW PROGRAM TODAY AT FAIRYLAND THEATER

Beginning with this afternoon's 5-cent matinee Fairyland presents a program of uniformly gratifying excellence.

Rose and Mayo who made a distinct hit here a week or two ago, and who were at that time rehearsing a sparkling little comedy sketch, have brought it to perfection and are sure to repeat their former success.

Brilliant humor, novelty in plot and the stunning costumes worn by Miss Mayo—these are so masterfully interwoven throughout this turn as to make it a genuine treat in vaudeville presentation.

Wallie Stephens, character comedian, is a most versatile entertainer, and will receive the enthusiastic ovation at Fairyland that has greeted him elsewhere on the circuit.

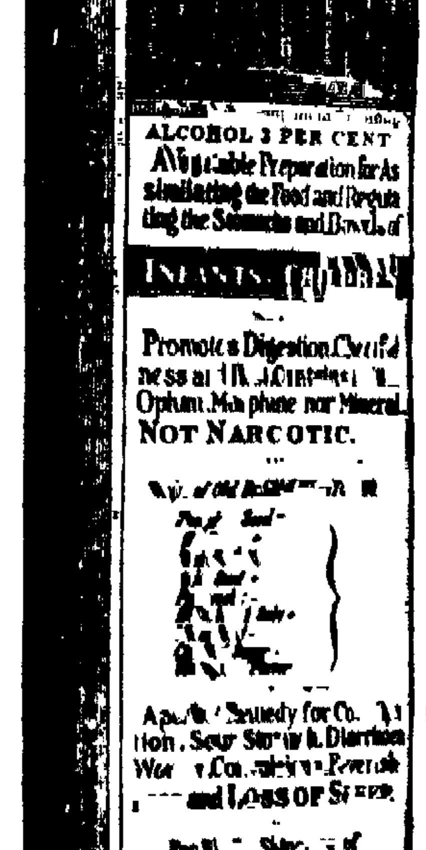

The motion pictures are the choicest productions Manager Tracy could select from the very latest subjects just issued from the studio. If there's one thing Manager Tracy does insist on it's the best pictures and he's enthusiastic about today's program.

MAJESTIC SINGER IS OF NOBLE BIRTH

Nothing bespeaks more eloquently the high plane of modern vaudeville, both as to the character of its artists and the standard of its acts, than that many of the leading performers on the best circuits such as that of Sullivan and Considine come from cultured families and in not a few instances, have noble blood in their veins.

The fact is illustrated in the person of Mlle Vera de Bassini, the "Italian Nightingale" who is creating a sensation at the Majestic this week by her magnificent voice. Mlle de Bassini is the daughter of an Italian nobleman and musical patron, Alberto de Bassini who bears the distinction of having had the immortal Verdi as his godfather. Both her parents are celebrated on the operatic stage and the daughter inherits their unusual talent, as has been proven to the satisfaction of local audiences this week. Among her cherished memories is the occasion of her presentation by her father at the royal court of Italy, her native land.

Director Capolungo of the Majestic orchestra, himself a musician of note, said after hearing Mlle Bassini for the first time Monday that he had never heard her equal and he predicts for her a brilliant career in grand opera, for which her present vaudeville tour is merely preparation. Her voice is of marvelous range and possesses a bird-like clarity and flexibility such as is seldom found outside the ranks of the greatest prima donnas. Nobody would blame anybody for anything after hearing her sing "Comin' Thru' the Rye," and no one would say that the human voice isn't capable of anything after hearing her imitations of a violin. They are inimitable.

REILLY HOME BURNS

Fire Destroys One Residence and Damages Another—Total Loss Over $2,000.

Fire originating in a defective flue in the kitchen totally destroyed the residence of Judge M Reilly, at 216 Hagerman street, early yesterday morning. The blaze spread to the rear porch of the home of Michael Clifford, situated next door to the Reilly place, and had it not been for the quick work of the department, the entire house would probably have been destroyed.

The blaze was discovered by a Midland engineer, who immediately notified the department. The occupants of the residences knew nothing of the blaze until they were reached by telephone. A little furniture was all that was saved from the Reilly home, the loss not being covered by insurance. The house is the property of Mrs. George Groom, and is partially covered by insurance. The entire loss reached $2,000. The damage to the Clifford home, amounting to $75, was not covered by insurance.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Colorado Springs People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first.

But when you know 'tis from the kidneys;

That serious kidney troubles follow;

That diabetes, Bright's disease may be the fatal end,

You will gladly profit by the following experience.

'Tis the statement of a Colorado Springs citizen.

J. N. Basham, retired, 507 S. Nevada Street, Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "After a lapse of over two years, I can heartily confirm the testimonial I gave in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills in December 1906. For years I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint and I believe it was hereditary. The pain extended from my right side and beneath my ribs to my right kidney and caused me a great deal of misery, especially if I stooped or did work. The doctors said I had floating kidney, but their medicine did not bring me much relief. At last I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the D. Y. Butcher Drug Co. and they disposed of the pain in my back as well as the lameness in my knees and joints. The kidney secretions were also regulated and inflammation of the bladder was removed. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly at this time as when I first spoke in their favor and I am glad to say that I have not been troubled to any extent by my back or kidneys since taking this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

The piscatorial proclivities of Egbert Potts, chauffeur for Levi H. Bell of Broadmoor, and the unsympathetic attitude of one H. B. The plant, when first constructed, was operated by Craig at a profit, and with the modern milling devices the mill will handle the low grade milling ores from the Lexington Gold Mining company's Clara D. and from other mines of the Gold hill section.

CAMERON, Colo., Nov. 10.—Lumber for the new ore house to be constructed by the Pride of Cripple Creek Leasing company, on the mine of that name on Ironclad hill, has been delivered on the ground and the building will be erected as rapidly as possible. The ore body exposed at the 550-foot level by General Manager Fred Johnson has developed into one of the strongest and richest shoots exposed at that depth in the Ironclad hill section, and handsome profits are assured those interested in the lease.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Nov. 10.—Murray & Dwerak, lessees on the New Boston mine on Womack hill, were loading out a shipment yesterday for consignment to one of the local samplers that will, if the expected values obtain, be later treated at one of the smelters in the valley. The lessees have opened up a rich ore shoot but a short distance from the old prospect holes dug by Bob Womack. The New Boston is owned by the Stratton estate, and adjoins the Reno and El Paso Gold King companies' estates on the western slope of the hill.

OCTOBER "PAY DAY" DISBURSEMENTS $350,000

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Nov. 10.—Today was "pay day" in the district, and it is estimated that over $350,000 was paid out to the men employed in the mines, mills and sampling plants. The books of the Cripple Creek Mine Owners and Operators association show between 3,200 and 3,500 miners at work, and with the average daily wage scale, including the wage paid machine drill men and shift bosses, $3.40 per day, this figure is conservative.

IF HORSES COULD TALK!

Their eloquence would far exceed that displayed by the noted Tuberculous Speakers. It would no doubt be on the same subject, for hundred of horses die yearly from the same trouble brought about by being allowed to stand ... heated after a hard drive or put in an old stall or stable. Let us make your horse a blanket that will keep it in strong and healthy. Out West Tent and Awning Co.

CALL LOAN RATE IS STEADILY CLIMBING

Tightness in Money Market Causes Apathetic Dealing and Sluggish Price Movement.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The stock market remained under the restraint of the international money situation, which caused the apathy of dealings and the sluggishness of the price movement. The call loan rate in New York rose at an early hour to yesterday's 5½ per cent maximum rate and the sterling exchange rate ran off in response although it steadied again later in the day. Government payments on Panama canal account relaxed the subtreasury drain on the New York money market and yielded a small amount of cash to the New York banks. The absorption on that account for the banking week has reached but $1,638,000 compared with $4,359,000 in the corresponding period last week.

The call loan rate of the latter part of the day exceeded the maximum of yesterday. The effects of the reassembling of Congress and the discussion of legislation bearing on corporation affairs loom larger in the stock market view.

The demand of some eastern railroad employes for an advance in wages did not escape attention as offering possibilities for widespread effect on corporation net earnings in its expected further development. The revelations of the extent of the loss incurred by the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis through defalcations of a minor official of the company made an exceedingly bad impression, which affected the New York Central shares to some extent.

The publication of the report of the Copper Producers' association for October had a weakening effect by reason of the addition shown to the already heavy surplus stocks, although that addition was much smaller than last month. Both the reports and the deliveries into domestic consumption expanded materially, but production was raised another notch to a new record. The resistance shown by the market to the rise in the money rate prompted freer buying in the last half hour and made the firm close.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $4,068,000.

U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

STAMPEDE OF SHORTS CAUSES SHARP RALLY

Manipulation in December Wheat Feared—General Tone of Market Is Weak

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—General profit taking caused a weak tone in the wheat market late in the session today, final quotations showing net losses of 1-8@1-4 to 1-4@3-8. Corn and oats followed wheat in its downward course and closed easy. Provisions also closed heavy.

Fear of manipulation in December wheat stampeded a number of smaller shorts early and caused a sharp rally. Most of the news favored the bears and special advices from Argentina and Australia. December sold between 103 5-8 and 104 3-4@7-8. The market closed with prices only a trifle above the low point, with December at 103 3-4@7-8.

Excellent demand for cash corn, unsettled weather in the corn belt and strength of wheat caused considerable firmness during the first half of the session but the market weakened later. The market closed at almost the lowest point with prices off 1-8 to 1-4@3-8.

Oats displayed less buoyancy early in the day than either wheat or corn. Prices at the close were 1-8@1-4 to 3-8 below the previous close.

Provisions closed 5 cents higher to 17½@20 cents lower.
